SAN DIEGO, CALIF.--The millennium of the birth of Saint Stephen, King of Hungary (969-1038) will be commemorated in a special program to be held Saturday, October 3, in the University of San Diego Library. A commemorative exhibit will remain on display for the entire month.

The program will begin at 3 p.m. The welcoming remarks will be made by the Rev. Charles Dollen, director of the library.

The Memorial address will be given by Joseph St. Clair, chairman of the Hungarian department, Defense Language Institute, West Coast Branch.

A video-tape presentation on the era and reign of Saint Stephen will be given by Gustav Bujkovsky, who will also give the closing remarks. The program will end with the Hungarian National Anthem.
